COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE.

THURSDAY EVENING, MARCH 11, 1880.

An advance of ¼ in Consols is reported in yesterday's London telegrams, the quotation now being £98. French Rentes were unchanged at Fcs. 16½. Indian Government Securities are still quoted at 79 for Fours and 84½ for Fours-and-a-half per cent.

In the General Produce markets Coffee and Cocoanut Oil are unchanged. Wheat, to arrive, is 6d. per qt. lower. The market for Linseed and Rapeseed are dull at previous quotations.

Metals are unchanged at £81 per ton for Wallarroo and £79 per ton for Copper Braziers—6¾d. per lb. for Yellow Metal and £16-5 for Hard Spelter.

The market for Piece Goods in Manchester yesterday was quiet.

The Cotton market in Liverpool closed dull, the sales only amounting to 6,000 bales, of which 500 bales were Surats. Prices were unchanged throughout. The New York telegrams still quote Mid.-Uplands at 13¼ cents per lb., ready, but futures for June shipment have declined from 13·80 to 13·63 cents per lb. The receipts at the U. S. ports to date compare with the past two seasons as follows:—

	1880.	1879.	1878.
To-days' Receipts	7,000	8,000	15,000
Four day's Receipts.....	40,000	54,000	54,000
Total since 1st Sept.....	4,367,000	3,960,000	3,703,000

At the weekly biddings for Council drafts on India in London yesterday Rs. 36,40,000 were allotted to Calcutta, Rs. 60,000 to Madras, and Rs. 8,00,000 to Bombay. Tenders on all three places at 1s. 7 15-16d. received twenty per cent. The average rates of allotment were as follows:—1s. 7·94d. on Calcutta and Madras and 1s. 7·97d. on Bombay. The amount advertised for next week is again 45 lacs.

Bar Silver in London has further declined ¼ per oz., being now quoted at 52d. per o

Exchange.—The market has been quiet but steady to-day with no change in Bank Bills since the morning, when rates opened at a decline of 1-16th all round on our yesterday's quotations. In Mercantile Bills, however, there is an advance of 1-32d. per rupee at the close. There has been scarcely any demand for Bank drafts, and houses are not drawing heavily as purchases of produce continue on a very small scale; this may to some extent be attributed to a scarcity of available steam tonnage. Taking into consideration the sale of Council Bills in London at about 1s. 7 15-16d. instead of 1s. 8d. per rupee as was generally anticipated, and in addition telegrams reporting Bar Silver weak at 53d. per oz., rates of Sterling Exchange here to-day have been very well maintained. In Calcutta they are equivalent to those ruling here.

It was generally expected that the Bank of Bengal's rates of discount and interest would be further mixed to-day, but no change has been made.

Our closing quotations are as follows:—

Bank Bills, on demand	1s. 8d.	per Rupee.
Do. 3 months' sight.	1s. 8 1-4.	,,
Credits 4 ,,	... 1s. 8¼d.	,,
Documents 3 ,,	... 1s 8 9-32d.	,,
Francs 3 ,,	... 2·13¼	,,

On Calcutta rates are unchanged at 100¼ for demand bills and 99 5-16 for 60 days' sight Paper.

Government Paper may be quoted here at Rs. 95 and Rs. 102½ for Fours and Four-and-a-half per cent respectively, against Rs. 95 and Rs. 102 in Calcutta.

Shares.—No business has been reported during the day in Bank Shares, or in Land or Press Companies. For S. and W. shares there has been some demand at rather better rates, and an advance of Rs. 5 is reported in Dharramseys, Rs. 5 in Empress, Rs. 5 in Manockjee Petits, and Rs. 2½ in Orientals.

Cotton.—The market has again been very dull and rates have further given way Rs. 2 to Rs. 3 per candy. At the decline there was slightly more enquiry this afternoon, but only a small business has been done. The arrivals in Bombay to-day have been large, amounting to 11,255 bales, in which those from Broach show a marked increase, which would in itself be sufficient reason for a weaker feeling here, even if accounts from home were less unfavourable. The total receipts for the 5 days now amount to 33,863 bales. We quote:—

Good M. G. Broach, Ready	Rs. 253	P F.
,, April delivery...	,, 251	,,
,, Dhollerah, Ready	,, 242	,,
,, April delivery ...	,, 238	,,
,, Oomrawuttee, Ready	,, 243	,,

Seeds.—Linseed continues to decline, there being sellers to-day but no buyers at Rs. 6-7 per cwt. Rapseed is unchanged. Gingelly is steady at previous rates.

Freight.—Owing to a temporary scarcity of tonnage rates for ready shipment have been run up to 42s. 6d. per ton for Liverpool via the Canal and 43s. 9d. for Havre. Sailing freights are also firmer, 32s. 6d. per ton being now the rate for tonnage in Iron ships. For Marseilles and Continental ports 40s. per ton is now asked for Liverpool via Canal. For forward loading 40s. per ton is now asked for Liverpool via Canal.

Coals.—There is no change to report.

Piece Goods.—The market is quiet, but fairly steady.

The Bombay Gazette

FRIDAY, MARCH 12, 1880.

The high standing of the Bank of Bombay is a matter of satisfaction not only to the shareholders, but to the public at large, who are all interested in the successful management which has brought our Presidency Bank within a few years of its reconstruction to a position equal to that of the banks of Bengal and Madras. Though counting but twelve years since it began anew on the ruins of the old Bank, its average dividends for the whole period are but little behind those of the other Presidency banks, while it has built up a reserve equal to that of the Bank of Bengal which has twice its capital. The average dividend paid by the Bank of Bombay for the twelve years ending last December is a fraction over 7 per cent. The Bank of Madras has in the same time paid an average dividend of 7⅞ per cent., and the Bank of Bengal 8¼ per cent. But the Bank of Bombay has in the same time laid up a reserve taken from its profits of Rs. 22,00,000, the Bank of Madras having increased its reserve in the same time by Rs. 1,37,500 and the Bank of Bengal by Rs. 4,88,000. The net profits of the three banks for the period of twelve years, 1868—1879, have been as follows:—Bank of Bengal capital Rs. 2,20,00,000, reduced in 1876 to Rs. 2,00,00,000; net profits Rs. 2,47,04,304. Bank of Bombay capital Rs. 60,00,000, increased in 1875 to Rs. 1,00,00,000, net profits Rs. 94,48,927. Bank of Madras capital Rs. 50,00,000, net profits Rs. 61,88,393. The Bank of Bengal has therefore earned in the twelve years an amount equal to its average capital for that time plus sixteen per cent. The Bank of Bombay has earned its average capital plus twenty-three per cent., and the Bank of Madras its capital plus twenty-three-and-a-half per cent. The Bank of Bengal is supposed to possess exceptional advantages in being near the head-quarters of the Supreme Government, and in thus securing favors and getting information which reaches the other banks more slowly; but yet, owing to the comparatively large amount of its capital, its net profits do not show so good a percentage as those of the other banks. But the above figures show conclusively that the Presidency banks are not overpaid for the work they do for Government, and that they are enabled to gain what must be generally acknowledged to be only a fair return on their capital. Their average dividends are in fact considerably less than those paid by the leading banks at home.

Considering the facilities furnished by Government, and the small amount of banking competition, higher dividends might, we think, be generally expected from our Presidency banks. India is not an old country like England with a large reserve capital and low rates of interest, nor a new country like America with small reserves and a large demand for capital which can command a high rate of interest. India combines a lack of enterprise with a lack of capital, with the result that, while money commands a nominally high rate of interest, but little is wanted except during a busy season, which lasts but a few months at most. So great is the demand then, that money often commands for a short time a price which would at home lead to a suspension of the Bank Act. The reaction soon comes, however, and the banks have, for the remainder of the year, their coffers full with but little demand for money: and if we may judge from this year, the facilities furnished by the telegraph in getting remittances, and especially in the immediate encashment of Council Drafts would seem to preclude the danger of a pressure for money even in the busy season. The increase of industrial enterprises is also tending somewhat to equalize the demand, but it will be a long time before we can look for a spirit of enterprise which will draw the capital of the country into productive public works, and relieve Government of even a portion of its responsibility in this direction. Another thing that tends to diminish the dividends which might be expected from banks which enjoy the privileges of our Presidency banks is the large capital which Government insists upon as a security for the balances entrusted to them. The essential property of a bank is, of course, perfect confidence on the part of its customers whether Government or the public, and the Government has a perfect right to insist, as a condition of its entrusting its funds to a bank, on a capital of sufficient amount to make it secure. There can be but little doubt, however, that the Bank of Bombay could have done its past business, and with safety, on its original capital of 60 lakhs, and could have paid a corresponding dividend had not Government insisted on the increase of its paid-up capital to a crore. This is made clear by the above return of the comparative profits of the three banks; the very large capital of the Bank of Bengal reducing the percentage of its net earnings below those of the other banks, which enjoy fewer advantages. The third reason for the comparatively small dividend is the heavy expenses attendant on the working of a bank in this country. The management, if the most skilled and the best, must be largely European, and must be well paid; the current expenses of a bank in this country are, consequently, much heavier than they would be for the same amount of business at home. We have therefore, tending to the reduction of dividends, heavy expenses, large capital, and little demand for money, and of these the second only could be remedied. A large capital is supposed apparently by Government to carry additional security to depositors, but this is not necessarily so if the capital is all paid up. Government forgets, we think, that a large capital in itself carries risks with it which should not be left out of calculation. Every manager of a banking institution and every board of directors are naturally anxious to give good dividends, and a large capital tends, therefore, to lead them to assume dangerous risks, and to use their money without due regard to contingencies. It is difficult for the most prudent directors to remain uninfluenced by such circumstances. A large unpaid capital, such as is contemplated by the new Banking Act at home, under which banking institutions are allowed to be reconstructed with limited liability, is a safe reserve, and gives stability to the bank and inspires confidence in its customers. Government, therefore, in insisting on a large capital for a Presidency bank only shut one door to open another; and it is a question, whether it would not be a better and safer course to insist on a certain amount of unpaid capital which would be a real reserve.

In this connection it is interesting to note the revival of the old question of the morality of taking usury; condemned by the Bible, by the Koran, by the Church, by philosophers, and by the Fathers as immoral, the political economists of the present century were supposed to have established the right of money to claim a return for its use—a claim which is allowed without question to other articles. But the old controversy has arisen again in the Contemporary Review with a layman fighting on the old ground of the Church, and a bishop defending the practice of usury, in its meaning of taking interest. The contest between Dr. Fraser, the Bishop of Manchester, and Mr. Ruskin will not, we are sure, result in stopping the taking of interest, on which practically all material development depends, but it may tend to disclose the danger to which all banking institutions are exposed, of going beyond what is right in order to try to secure the means of paying large dividends. It is then that the question should be taken from the hand of the economist to be dealt with by the [illegible] with which we are dealing—the desire to gratify the supposed wishes of shareholders by large dividends. We say supposed wishes, because in the minds of bona fide holders no such desire, we are convinced, exists; the high rate at which the shares of our Presidency banks stand in the market are conclusive proof, were any needed, that what bona fide investors seek for is a fair return with safety. A moderate dividend, which can be depended on, gives a higher value to bank stock than exceptionally high dividends which are based on corresponding risks. And the Bank of Bombay will continue to satisfy its shareholders and retain the confidence of the public by continuing the judicious course which has been followed since its reconstruction. An increase in dividends can only be safely

MAHOMED JAN'S ATTITUDE.

ALLAHABAD, MARCH 11.

KABUL, March 9.—Mahomed Jan's reported presence at Wadrak with the Mustaufi is expected to have important results. Either he will once for all declare his continued hostility to the British and try a new jehad, or he will come into Sherpur and take part in arranging a scheme for the speedy settlement of Kabul affairs. He still keeps men on the roads between Ghazni and Kabul, but until he has decided upon his course of action, he is not likely to discard such measure.

THE FORCE AT GHAZNI.

The Persian correspondent at Kabul, writing on the 28th February, states that messengers from Ghazni bring intelligence that the insurgent troops there now consist of six regiments of infantry, two of cavalry, and 12 guns.

PREPARATIONS OF MAHOMED JAN.

Sirdars Tahir Khan, with 200 cavalry an 3 guns, has arrived in the Logar Valley. Mir Bacha Khan, who is at Shashgas, one march on the Kabul side of Ghazni, with 4,000 cavalry raised from the Suleimankhel and Turkee clans, has received orders to advance towards Kabul, collecting Ghazis en route. Mahomedan Jan has sent presents of money to Mir Bacha, his brother, Mahomed Sarwarkhan, and to Gholam Jan and his son. Letters of instruction signed by the ex-Amir's son, Mussa Khan, and Mahomed Jan himself, have been sent all the principal Khans, Maliks, in Khoistan, desiring the collection of supplies and revenue and the levying of Ghazis to join Mir Bacha on his commencing to march towards Kabul

ABDUL RAHMAN KHAN.

Abdul Rahman Khan is said to have reached Rakcha; and on hearing of his approach, Gholam Hyder Khan, with a force of several thousand men and 30 guns, abandoned Shahmazar. It is further stated that Abdul Rahman has written to Gholam Hyder that, as a friend of the late Amir, he should not fear him (Abdul Rahman), a relative of the Amir. Gholam Hyder is said to have forwarded this letter to Mussa Khan, who sent Ayub Khan to Herat with a note from himself professing ignorance of the motive of Abdul Rahman in approaching Kabul.

ABDUL RAHMAN KHAN AND AYUB KHAN ON THE SHAH'S OFFER TO PURCHASE HERAT.

KABUL, Feb. 28.—Abdul Rahman Khan has been in previous communication with Ayub Khan and requested his assistance against the British at Kabul; and Ayub Khan, in deference to the wishes of Abdul Rahman Khan, agreed to send a considerable force of cavalry under Khan Aga towards Kandahar with orders to halt two or three marches short of that city. Ayub Khan, in informing Abdul Rahman the course he had taken, stated that the Shah had offered to purchase Herat after Kabul affairs had been settled, and asked the advice of Abdul Rahman Khan, who recommended him not to enter into any such compact with the Shah.

THE MUSTAUFI ILL AT GHAZNI.

Habibulah Khan Mustaufi is said to be ill at Ghazni, and while endeavouring to arrange terms with Mahomed Jan, professes a desire not to return to Kabul.

SECRET CORRESPONDENCE WITH GHAZNI.

There is some correspondence now passing between the ex-Amir's mother and Ghazni, the nature of which has not yet transpired.

COLLECTION OF A FORCE IN THE LOGAR VALLEY.

From Logar it is reported that Mahomed Hoosein Khan has returned to Ghazni. Mahomed Tahir Khan, after collecting together all the Maliks and Khans of the Logar Valley, obtained from them vows on the Koran to join him for the following purposes:—First, unremitting hostilities to the British; second, to surrender to him all British prisoners with their arms; third, the collection and surrender to him of all material of war; fourth, all the supplies and revenue of the country. The Khans, who are said to be devoted to him, have promised compliance and commenced the collection of revenue and supplies on behalf of Mahomed Tahir Khan. This Sirdar has already, it is said, got together a force of two thousand fanatics at a village called Burkeerajan in the Logar Valley, and has posted a strong detachment of four hundred Afghans at Temgi to close the entrance of the valley to English troops.

An attack by the Kohistanis on the British position before long is confidently anticipated.

POLITICAL SPIES AT KABUL.

The English political officers are misled as to the character and intentions of all the Barakzai Sirdars now in the camp at Kabul. These Khans are all spies, and are all said to be in communication with Mahomed Jan, and also with the mother of the ex-Amir Yakub Khan, whose instructions they transmit to Ghazni. All of them have brothers and near relations with Mahomed Jan; for instance, Mahomed Hasim Khan, now in the British camp, is brother to Sirdar Tahir Khan; Samundur Khan, father-in-law to the late Munshi Baktyar Khan, is with the British, and his son, Mahomed Yusuf Khan; with Mahomed Jan, is Wazir to Mussa Khan. Mahomed Hyat Khan, a political officer with the British, has married, it is said, the widow of Baktyar Khan, second daughter of Samundur Khan, with his son, were brought to the notice of the British political officers.

Colonel Williams, 5th Punjab Cavalry, shortly proceeds to join the Sabarun pore depôt on Army remount work.

MANIFESTO BY LORD HARTINGTON.

LONDON, MAR. 11.

A manifesto has been issued by Lord Hartington, in which he emphatically denies that the Liberals desire a severance of the Colonies from the mother country. Whilst firmly opposing Home Rule, he promises to give attention to any reasonable demands of Ireland. As regards the foreign policy of the Government, he says it has everywhere failed and immense responsibility remains to the country. The Afghan nation has been destroyed, whose independence was admittedly important for the security of our North-Western Frontier of India. His Lordship then promises reforms in the franchise, local Government, land laws, and finishes by stating that the Liberal party, while upholding the power and integrity of the Empire, will avoid a policy of disturbance and needless annexation.

THE Garden Party at Malabar Point this afternoon, we need scarcely remind our readers, will be the last given in Bombay by H. E. Sir Richard Temple.

MR. NANA MOROJEE has been granted a further extension of one year as magistrate.

H. E. RAJAH SIR T. MODHAV RAO, Dewan of Baroda, is expected to arrive in Bombay on the 16th instant from a tour of inspection in the province of Cutch.

A CONVERSAZIONE was held at the Town Hall last evening in connection with the Bombay Branch of the Royal Asiatic Society. The hall, the library and the adjoining rooms were arranged, with illustrated works of great beauty, rare and curiously illuminated manuscripts, photographs and scientific appliances. The company was very numerous and included H. E. the Governor, H. E. the Commander-in-Chief, H. E. Admiral Gore-Jones, and the leading residents of Bombay, among whom we observed many native ladies and gentlemen. Shortly after the rooms were thrown open H. E. the Governor delivered an address in which he alluded to the gratifying fact that so many native gentlemen belonged to the Society. The hall, we should mention, had been tastefully adorned for the occasion, handsome carpets having been laid down and the place made to assume the appearance of a drawing room. H. E. the Governor's band was in attendance and supplied some excellent music.

A CORRESPONDENT who signs himself "Echo" writes to us to suggest that heads of offices—both official and commercial—should give their subordinates an opportunity of attending at the bunder to-morrow to wish Sir Richard Temple "God speed." "Echo" is sure that the inhabitants will desire to turn out en masse "to bid a hearty farewell to the most popular Governor Bombay ever had."

THE following appointment is made on the personal staff of His Excellency the Governor:—Lieutenant A. W. T. Radcliffe, Bengal Staff Corps, to be an Aide-de-Camp from the 15th February 1880, vice Lieutenant J. S. Frith, R. A.

WE hear from Surat that Mr. Hammick, the Assistant Sessions Judge, who tried the Gujarat Samachar defamation case, has sentenced the editor, Manicklal Motichand, to three months' simple imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 200, or, in default of payment of fine, to undergo further imprisonment for three months.

CASTE prejudices and college training are as oil and water,—they can never agree. The minds of all the Nagar and Lad, and Kapole, and numerous other Hindu castes are at present stated to be gravely exercised as to what to do with certain of their juvenile members who, one afternoon recently, were audacious enough to swallow in public a lot of English confectionery and wines. It appears that a Hindu gentleman, having invited some of his European and other friends to a wedding in Madhava Bag, had provided refreshments for them. After these were partaken of by the guests, the youngsters round about, who, it is said, were at first wondering as to the nature and use of the various dainty-coloured articles on the tables, fell to freely. To the great consternation of the venerable members of the assemblage the boys openly gulped down the forbidden fruits and sweets and wines till the tables no more "groaned under the weight of the delicacies of the season," for it is said:—

"Even those ate now who never ate before,
And those that ate before, now ate the more."

A Gujarathi writer reports that the various castes to which the juvenile culprits belong are much scandalised, and that they are gravely considering whether any penalty less than that of outcasting can meet the gravity of the offence.

A CORRESPONDENT calls attention to the fact that "owing to the despatch of troops to the front the collectorate of Ahmednuggur, where the boundary of His Highness the Nizam terminates, has had both the European and native regiments and battery removed, and even Her Majesty's Treasury and gaol are entrusted to the custody of the country police, an event under the British rule quite unparalleled in the history of the district of Ahmednuggur."

A SALUTE of 15 guns was fired last evening from the saluting battery, Apollo Bunder, on the occasion of H. H. the Maharaja of Ulwar visiting H. E. the Governor at Malabar Hill.

A Government Gazette Extraordinary has been issued in which H. E. the Governor in Council places on record his sense of the exemplary zeal and conspicuous ability displayed at all times by Lieut. General Sir Michael Kavanagh Kennedy, K. C. S. I., R. E., who has resigned his appointment as Secretary to Government, Public Works and Railway Departments in this Presidency. His Excellency mentions with high approval the services of Sir Michael during the famine of 1876 and 1877, and adds that in all respects this distinguished officer showed a tenacity of purpose and a capacity for administration which proved most valuable to the Government. While congratulating Sir Michael Kennedy on the great results of his past labours in the Presidency, H. E. expresses the best wishes for his future welfare.

THE Bombay season reports issued yesterday show that the rabi harvest is progressing everywhere. Frost has occurred in parts of Gujarat and Sind, and slight rain has fallen in Kurrachee. Public health generally is fair.

A MEETING of the Sarvajanik Sabha was held on Wednesday for the purpose of petitioning the Bombay Government that the election of municipal commissioners of the city of Poona should be in future by the votes of the inhabitants.

THE Raja of Kolhapore has come down to Poona from Mahableshwar, and proceeds to the Neilgherries for change of air.

NOTICE is given in the Government Gazette, that heads of departments at the Presidency and in the Provinces are permitted to close their offices from Wednesday, the 24th instant, to Tuesday, the 30th idem, both days in clusive, for the Easter holidays.

THE annual summer vacation of the Bombay High Court will be from Monday, the 3rd of May, to Saturday, the 5th of June, both days inclusive.

THE next quarterly meeting of the Central Committee for Vernacular examination will take place in the New Secretariat on the 28th April.

ONE of the despatches in the Central Asian Blue-book, just published, contains an interesting account of the strength of the garrison of Herat in January 1879. There were 17 infantry regiments, 14 being Kabuli, and the rest Heratee. Each regiment numbered 700 men. There were cavalry numbering 2,000, but were so badly equipped that they could go nowhere if wanted to. The artillery consisted of 82 pieces, of which six were breech-loaders.

THE undermentioned officers of the Bombay Volunteer Rifle Corps, having passed the prescribed examinations and received certificates have been granted commissions:—Major L. H. Bayley, Major F. S. Hore, Captain G. E. Noble, Lieutenants W. F. Ross, F. Little, and A. V. Frere.

THE following appointments are made in the B. B. and C. I. Railway Volunteer Corps:—Lieutenant C. P. Whitecombe to be Captain, vice Hornby, resigned; W. While, Esquire, to be 2nd Lieutenant, vice Maclean, resigned; Thomas A. Walker, Esquire, to be 2nd Lieutenant, vice Hornby, resigned.

H. E. THE GOVERNOR in Councilis pleased to confirm Mr. J. H. E. Hart, M.I.C.E., in the appointment of Superintending Engineer for Irrigation, with effect from the 3rd March 1880, the date of the Honourable Colonel Merriman's confirmation as Secretary to Government, Public Works Department, and also to appoint him Under Secretary to Government, Public Works Department (Irrigation), from that date.

A POONA paper, the Deccan Herald announces:—An accomplice of the notorious Wasudeo Bulwunt Phadke has been caught at last. He has been brought down from Bombay to Poona by chief constable Kadur Khan.

IT is probable, the Deccan Herald says, the General Bright from Belgaum will command the Poona Division of the army during the absence of General Primrose in the field.

DR. D. B. SMITH, Principal of the Medical College Hospital, at Calcutta, it is announced, has felt himself compelled to resign his appointment. The Indian Daily News remarks:—This is a sufficient comment on the working of Sir Ashley Eden's reforms, and upon his singular treatment of Dr. Smith in the resolution of February 24th last.

THE cost of the famous Madras cabinet, plus a small percentage for Mr. Deschamps' personal labour and supervision in the matter, has been fixed by the referees at Rs. 12,000, which is the sum the Duke will have to pay. Each party to the suit pay their own costs.

THE next half-yearly departmental examination of junior civil servants, cantonment magistrates, and others will be held in Bombay at the New Secretariat on Tuesday, the 20th April, at 11 a.m. Those who may wish to be examined should send intimation to the Secretary to the central committee for departmental examination before the 25th instant; and such junior civil servants as wish to be examined in the extra judicial paper should intimate their wish a month before the date of the examination.

THE Madrasees are speculating as to who is to be their new Governor. The local Times writes:—The term of office of his Grace the Duke of Buckingham and Chandos as Governor of Madras expires in November next, so it is not unnatural that there should be some talk already as to when he is likely to leave Madras for England. It is stated in some quarters that his Grace will, in all probability, bid adieu to India early in the autumn, and that, in order to carry out this object, his Grace intends to go to the Hills about the middle of the present month and to return by August. Whatever may be his Grace's plans about returning to Madras in August, it does not appear, so far as his Grace's public engagements indicate, that he will leave Madras before at least the first week of next month. It will have been noticed that the Convocation of the Madras University for conferring degrees takes place on the 31st instant, and his Grace, as the Chancellor of the University, will be expected to preside at the meeting. It is also believed in some quarters that his Grace will extend the term of his office, but there is little likelihood of this as it has been for some time known that he has made up his mind to leave Madras at the conclusion of his five years.

MANY people besides the editor of the Statesman will be puzzled to get to the bottom of the peculiarities of the overland postal charges. On the 1st February an entirely new scale of rates was adopted, consequent on the commencement of the new contract with the P. and O. Company. Letters and papers were all to go via Brindisi, and the postal rates were slightly altered. What we complain of now, is the difference in rates homewards, as compared with those on the outward route. For instance, a letter weighing under half an ounce is carried from England to India for five pence, while the same letter from India to England is charged four-and-a half annas (6¾d.) or 35 per cent. more than the other way. Again, a news paper costs three half-pence from England to India, and one-and-a-half annas (2¼d.) from India to England. Why this excess of 50 per cent? Does it cost more to take a letter home than to bring it out? Or have our Government become so exact in their financial operations, that they charge the loss by exchange on monies collected here for postage, seeing, we presume, that the P. and O. Company have to be paid their subsidy at home and in sterling? If this latter supposition be correct, then we are still overcharged, as 5.d and 1½d. with exchange at 1s. 8d. added, would only amount to 6¾d., and 1s.—5d., whereas we are charged 6¾d. and 2¼d. Surely India should, if possible, be permitted to have as cheap postage as the United Kingdom.

SIR MICHAEL KENNEDY.

THE following Government Gazette extraordinary was issued last night:—

Lieutenant-General Sir Michael Kavanagh Kennedy, K.C.S.I., R. E., having resigned his appointment as Secretary to Government Public Works and Railway Departments in this Presidency, His Excellency the Honourable the Governor in Council desires to avail himself of this opportunity of placing on record his sense of the exemplary zeal and the conspicuous ability displayed by this officer at all times in the discharge of his duties in the Bombay Public Works Department. Lieutenant-General Sir Michael Kennedy joined the Department on the 23 d June 1843 and served in Khandesh, Surat, Aden, and Satara until the 29th April, 1861, when he was appointed Superintending Engineer, Southern Division, which post he held till the 18th July, 1863, when he was nominated Secretary to Government, Public Works and Railway Departments. His general acquaintance with the greater part of the Bombay Presidency, combined with his conscientious zeal, excellent judgment and remarkable ability, render his services particularly valuable to Government at all times in disposing of important questions relating to Public Works of every description; but especially so during the famine of 1876 and 1877, when he rendered Government devoted and able assistance in its efforts to organize a system of relief suitable to the circumstances which then existed, adapting these to the professional and non-professional resources of the State; developing suitable projects of public works; obtaining an adequate return for expenditure on relief; ensuring village inspection being carried out for the prevention of mortality among the poorer classes; securing on the one hand the safety of the people and on the other hand economy of the public expenditure; and in all these respects showing a tenacity of purpose and a capacity for administration which proved most valuable to the Government he served.

His Excellency the Governor in Council, while congratulating him on the great results of his past labours in this Presidency, desires to express his best wishes for Sir Michael Kennedy's future welfare.

The said Kurrachee Harbour Board shall consist of the following members ex-officio and of such other members as may hereafter from time to time be appointed:—

The Collector of Kurrachee, President.
The Collector of Customs, Kurrachee.
The Executive Engineer, Lower and Central Sind.
The Master Attendant, Kurrachee.
The Port Engineer, Kurrachee.

THE NEW COLABA COMPANY.

AN extraordinary general meeting of shareholders was held yesterday at the office of the company, 1, Bruce Lane, to confirm certain resolutions passed at a previous meeting. Mr. N. M. Wadia was in the chair. Mr. John Hector, the secretary and treasurer, read the notice convening the meeting, after which the following resolutions of which previous notice had been given, were adopted:—

It was proposed by Mr. J. R. Durbury, seconded by Mr. Tapidas Varjdas, and carried unanimously, that the following four resolutions passed at the extraordinary general meeting of shareholders held on the 23rd ult. be confirmed:—

1. Whereas it is proposed to wind up the New Colaba Company, Limited, under the provisions of Act X. of 1866, and to transfer or sell its business, and part of its property to a new company hereafter to be formed and to be called the Colaba Land and Mill Company, Limited, it is resolved that the liquidators or liquidators who shall for the time being be appointed to wind up the New Colaba Company, Limited, shall have authority to transfer or sell to a new company to be formed and to be called the Colaba Land and Mill Company, Limited, the whole business and property and liabilities of the New Colaba Company, Limited, less bonds of the Port Trustees of Bombay guaranteed by Government, bearing interest at four per cent, to the nominal value of Rs. 15,79,200, and less such further sum as the liquidators may consider to be equivalent to the difference which has for such winding up would have been distributed among the shareholders of the said New Colaba Company, Limited, in respect of the profit earned during the year ending the 30th day of June, 1880. And it is further resolved that the said liquidators may receive in compensation or part compensation for such sale or transfer such number of shares in the said Colaba Land and Mill Company, Limited, as they may think proper for the purpose of distributing the same among the shareholders of the said New Colaba Company, Limited, rateably in proportion to the shares held by them in such last named company.

2. That the New Colaba Company, Limited, be placed in liquidation under Act X. of 1866 of the Legislative Council of India.

3. That K. R. Cama, J. Hector, and Jehangeer Gustadjee Kerr, be appointed liquidators of the company, and that their remuneration be Rs. 800 each, and that all acts required or authorized to be done by the said liquidators may be done by any two of them.

4. That the liquidation be conducted by the liquidators with the advice of the directors.

Agreeing in opinion with a recommendation made in an influentially-signed letter addressed to them, the directors had proposed to make an important alteration in one of the articles of association of the proposed company, which was to omit the words—"or of any other company, partnership, or person carrying on any business included among the objects of the company." A resolution to this effect was proposed by Mr. Sorabjee Rustomjee Mody, seconded by Mr. Dorabjee Cursetjee Shroff, and carried unanimously.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE LOSS OF THE VINGORLA.

MARINE COURT OF ENQUIRY.

THE enquiry into the loss of the Vingorla was continued yesterday at the Fort Police Court. The Marine Court of Enquiry was composed of C. P. Cooper, Esq., Chief Presidency Magistrate, Captain W. T. Crockett, late Indian Navy, W. Cooper, Esq., Superintending Engineer, P. and O. Company, and Captain Murray of the P. and O. Steamer Nepaul. Mr. R. V. Hearn, Government solicitor, conducted the proceedings on behalf of Government, and Mr. Owen, of Messrs. Craigie, Lynch and Owen, appeared for the B. I. S. N. Company.

Mr. John Clarke sworn and examined by Mr. Hearn.—I am a marine engineer by profession. I am an Assistant Superintending Engineer in Bombay of the B. I. S. N. Company. I acted as Superintending Engineer during the absence of Mr. Johnson for a period of eighteen months. During that time I often examind the Vingorla every time she was in dock. She went into dock on the 6th January last, if I remember right, and left on the 9th. I then examined her hull all round. I found everything as regarded her hull in a satisfactory condition. There were traces of damage which she previously received, I think altogether two dents in the space underneath the engines and boilers. They were not of a nature likely to become dangerous; they could scarcely be observed. There is a standing order in our company, that when any vessel is docked, all the sea cocks or other class of inlets shall be examined, withdrawn and repacked, if necessary, and otherwise put in order; that was done as regards the Vingorla in January last. The latrine soil pipe forward is above water mark. I could not swear that it had a casing with wood, it is customary that all pipes of this description should have casings. The pipe was made of cast iron. I do not remember exactly whether the native latrine pipe was covered or not. I presume it was. I have reason to believe it was. This pipe was examined by me from the outside in January last, and was found in good condition. It was secured by sharp headed bolts through the skin of the vessel and secured internally by nuts. It had no valves. I cannot say when it was examined from inside last. I can form no opinion what caused the accident. I have an idea that it may have been caused by a fishing stake or by some other substance striking the vessel. She may have struck upon a fishing stake which might remain fixed to the vessel for sometime and afterwards by the motion of the vessel drop out and the water go in In my opinion, such a thing might have occurred without the persons on board observing it.

Examined by the Court.—To the best of my recollection there were two bilge pumps sucking through a four inch pipe. The independent donkey pump was also connected with the same suction pipe. There was a hand pipe on deck. I should think the area of that pump was about the same, four inches. Those are all the pumps connected with it. The pumps could be kept working at the same time, but not effectively, being all attached to the same suction pipe. The two pumps I have mentioned were attached to the main engine. I cannot give any reason why the big engine was stopped from half past 10 until the ship went down, unless it was to prevent her being driven under water. There is nothing to lead me to believe she could not have gone astern if they slipped the cable. I am not thoroughly decided upon the point whether the bulkhead sluice was 20 or 24 inches, but I cannot say whether there were two sluices or one; I always imagined there was only one. I had an opinion at one time that the sluices were attached to the bulkhead next to the main-hold, but I believe at present they were not, but were attached to the stokehole in the bulkhead. They would not be liable to get checked by the coal dust as they were in the engine room side of the bulkhead and could be readily got at. My opinion is that the sluice with 10 feet of water in the main hold would let in more water to the bilge pumps than they could lift, and I would include the bilge injection also. The capacity of the vessel's main hold would be alone sufficient to put the vessel under water before it was full of water. I have not heard there are any such dangers or fishing stakes or other obstructions in any of the ports the Vingorla usually called at. The native latrine pipe was a cast iron where it was attached to the vessel, and there was a lead pipe leading from that to the latrine itself. I can say the Vingorla had scupper holes and no pipes.

Examined by Mr. Owen through the court.—My opinion is that the sluice, when open, would have let in more water than the pumps could drain, of course. I cannot say if the sluice was obstructed or not. I can only account for the little water stated to be in the engine room when the ship was nearly going down is by the sluice being partly obstructed. My opinion is that there was an open timber under the bulkshead of the main hold. I know of my knowledge that the Akola is considered a sister ship to the Vingorla. She is at present coasting about Zanzibar.

Mr. William Potts was recalled, resworn and examined by the court.—I consider as a naval architect that the same free board for a sea going steamship is 2 inches for every depth of hold up to 8 feet, and after that 2½-10ths feet for every foot. According to this rule the Vingorla should have had 2 feet 5 inches and 2-10th. The deep load line marked on this plan (produced) what is, I believe, she drew from enquiries I made, when she left this port. I consider the deep load line drawn on the original plan is not correct, but I fancy it was put in by the draughtsman. I say so because I was in Cairde's office and know that used to be done. I recollect we put down the Western Ocean steamers at 17 feet when they generally drew 21 feet 6 inches. From my experience I say yes, draughtsmen are allowed to put any load line they may fancy to official drawings supplied to ships' owners. This original plan is only a rigging plan. The Vingorla's depth of hold was 14 feet 2 inches when her keel would be about 7 inches and her frame 15 or 16 inches, and her ceiling 2½ inches. Her beam has got to the foot of Mahableshwar Hills.

chamber of about 9 inches that would cause an allowance of, inches to be deducted, and an addition of 2 inches would be made for her deck that would give her. That will give her extreme depth of 16 feet and half an inch. I have a distinct recollection of a watertight door between the stokehole and the coal bunker, and an indistinct recollection of a sluice handle above the level of the main deck on the continuation of the same bulkshead. Caird and Company do not always fit watertight doors to their coal bunkers whether they are watertight bulkhead or not. I am quite sure of it, but it is not an invariable rule. They always put watertight doors to watertight bulkheads and not always watertight doors to other bulkheads.

Mr. B. B. Conroy was recalled, reswon and examined by the court.—The captain told me to let go the anchor, I told him he had better wait. He told me to do as he ordered. I said so to the captain only on the impulse of the moment. At half past 10 I considered it was too late to save the ship, as she was half full of water then. The only consultation held with me and the chief engineer by the captain was when we were trying to put the hatches on. I then said it was no use in trying to save her. After the water was discovered the fore scuttle was bottomed down and corked by the China carpenter. The side parts were screwed on and the shutters were open. The water parts were secured, they were never kept open. When I looked down the fore-scuttle the water appeared about 3½ feet from the top of the scuttle. That was a little after half past 10. When I first looked in the mainhold the water was about 5 feet from the main deck. When we tried to put the hatches on the water the main hold was about 2 or 2½ feet from the main deck. That was between 12 and 1 o'clock. She filled up about 2½ feet in about two hours. The main deck hand pump was not used because the deck was awash and could not be used. It could not be used not with any benefit when the water was first discovered; because there was so much water on deck that a man could not stand with things rolling about. When I first came on deck the water was coming on the main deck through the side parts and the scupper. I cannot say whether the fire engine pump was used or not. I did not see the suction pipe of the fire engine in the main hold. I can give no reason why the main engine was not made use of to pump the ship when the water was first discovered. The native latrine soil pipe was on the starboard side. There was not another latrine on the other side. I did not advice the slipping of the chain as the captain told me he expected to have them up immediately we were all right. The captain told me to let go the anchors to lighten her forward. There were six life-buoys on board and eight cork life belts, I believe. They were rolls of sheet copper of about 2 cwt. and a half that was taken on board the ship. I do not know if anything was dropped in the hold while taking in cargo. When the hatches were first taken off the main hold I noticed that the top of the cargo was perfectly dry. We had to work to about 5 feet of cargo before we got to the water. There are no parts opening into the hold.

The court rose at 6-10 p.m. and adjourned to Wednesday next, the 17th instant at 3 p.m., to consider its decision.

DAMAGES FOR LOSS OF COMMISSION.

BRIMBHOY LULLOOBHOY Vs. THE MANCHESTER AND BOMBAY S. AND W. COMPANY.

AT the High Court on Monday last, Mr. Justice Kemball gave judgment in the suit which was brought to recover Rs. 2,25,000 or Rs. 1,00,000 or such other sum as the court might determine as damages; to have an account taken of the working of the mill from its commencement in 1878 in order to recover such sums for commission as might be found due; and to recover the balance due in respect of certain monthly sums remaining unpaid. The plaintiff appeared in person; and Mr. Macpherson, instructed by Messrs. Smith and Frere, for the defendants.

The circumstances of the case are these:—In the month of June 1875, Mr. Ashworth, the managing director of the defendants' company, which had then been registered, came to Bombay for the purpose of obtaining shareholders for the company with a view to commencing operations in Bombay. Mr. Ashworth entered into communication with the plaintiff, to whom he brought a letter of introduction. Subscriptions for 10,000 shares were obtained, and the operations of the company were commenced in Bombay. Subsequently Mr. Ashworth informed the plaintiff that only 5,000 shares could be hoped for in England, and asked the plaintiff either to subscribe 5,000 shares himself or obtain them for the company. Ultimately an agreement bearing date 7th September 1876, was entered into between one Purmanundas Hurjeevandas, and the defendants by which the former agreed to lend Rs. 3,50,000, the amount required, upon certain conditions. The defendants agreed, in consideration of the plaintiff's entering into such a bond, to employ him (the plaintiff) as their broker during the continuance of the agreement. On the 8th of September 1876, plaintiff entered into a bond guaranteeing to Purmanundas Hurjeevundas repayment of the Rs. 3,50,000, with interest, in an amount equal to that entered into between the defendants on the one part, and the plaintiff on the other, by which it was arranged, amongst other things, that the company should employ the plaintiff as broker for the purchase of cotton and for the sale of yarn in India for the next five years, from the 1st September 1876 or from the time the mill commenced working; commission to be paid to the plaintiff at the rate of one per cent on all cotton bought, and the same commission on all yarn sold. It was agreed by the

CARRE'S IMPROVED ICE-MACHINE.
WITH THE NEW CONGELATOR FOR PRODUCING BLOCK ICE, TO BE HAD ONLY FROM
S. ROSE & CO., BOMBAY.
ICE IN FOUR MINUTES.

CARRE'S PNEUMATIC ICE-MACHINE.
WITH DISTRIBUTOR AND CONGELATOR ATTACHED.
The only machine suitable for Domestic use; Cheap, Cleanly, and Easy to work; always ready for use, and never gets out of order.
Full particulars of the NEW CONGELATOR can be had on application to S. Rose & Co.
Personal inspection of the new apparatus and its accessories is requested, and full practical instructions for using the Machine will be given to the agents or to the servants of purchasers.
The mode of producing Ice is by means of a Pneumatic Machine; the air in the Decanter or Vase is exhausted by the action of the air-pump, and the moisture arising from rapid evaporation, absorbed by the Sulphuric Acid contained in the Cylinder B, and intense cold in the Decanter or Vase, is the result of reducing the water to Ice.
For use in Up-country Stations, Messes, Hotels, Hospitals, and on board ship, these Machines will be found invaluable; and their portability renders them most serviceable for Camp use. Within fifteen minutes the Machine can be fitted together, charged with acid, and the water a 85 deg. Fahrenheit can be reduced to freezing point.
An Illustrated Pamphlet, containing full directions for use, accompanies each Machine.
Apparatus for operating on one DEJANTER or VASE with NEW CONGELATOR and ACCESSORIES, complete. Net Cash, Rs. 275.
